Fund Manager comments

Echiquier Space A turned in a negative monthly performance of -2.03% and of -35.25% year-to-date.

November was a difficult month for the fund despite the rise in the indices, which was driven by the more cyclical and value sectors. The sharp rise in the euro against the dollar, around 5%, had a negative impact on us. Quarterly publications were mixed due to the economic slowdown, which is becoming increasingly acute. VELO3D reported results below expectations due to supply issues that limited 3D printer production and therefore weighed on growth. New customer orders remain strong so we see this as temporary. EUTELSAT is down following the detachment of its dividend for a yield of almost 10%. The company is moving forward with its transformative merger with ONEWEB that will give it the second largest constellation of low earth orbit communication satellites. On the upside, we note the surge in the fund's cyclical stocks such as TSMC, NVIDIA, ASML and APPLIED MATERIALS. Finally, the theme continued to develop with the successful launch of the SLS rocket to the moon.
