Fund Manager comments

Echiquier Artificial Intelligence B USD turned in a positive monthly performance of 17.15% and of 32.28% year-to-date.

We ended the best month in the fund's history, with AI at the forefront of the global technological and media scene. The race for and exploitation of digital gold and NVIDIA's stratospheric results further highlighted the investment opportunity in this long-term theme. In May, the fund benefited from the rise of PALANTIR, which soared on the back of its good results. ZSCALER rose on the back of preliminary quarterly results showing growth of +45% and higher-than-expected profitability. Cybersecurity remains a key issue in the current climate. On the other hand, we note the fall in ALTERYX in the wake of mixed results and impacted by the slowdown in IT demand over the past year, but which should pick up again in the second half of the year. Lastly, the management team travelled to the United States to meet around thirty companies in our investment universe and witnessed the growing enthusiasm for AI, a revolution that is not about to come to an end!
