Fund Manager comments

Echiquier Value Euro B turned in a negative monthly performance of -0.85% and of -0.95% year-to-date.

The fund showed good resilience in December, in a context marked by the continuing restrictive rhetoric of central bankers, which is therefore penalizing financial assets. Performance was driven in particular by the good performance of small stocks (GUILLIN, BONDUELLE, ORIGIN, NRJ), which rebounded after a difficult year in 2022 for the segment. The M6 stock, which was strengthened in October, posted a positive performance as part of a 5% stake acquired by CMA-CGM. On the disappointing side, COLRUYT reported a lower-than-expected operating margin for its first half of the fiscal year, amid inflation in personnel and energy costs. We approach 2023 with a balanced portfolio profile between cyclicals and defensives, while the macroeconomic situation remains complicated, with no real room for monetary or fiscal stimulus policies. The average valuation of the fund remains modest, and allows us to avoid past excesses in the financial markets.
